

Token Design

Token Design

Token design is the process of starting with real world problems and synthesizing solution using smart contracts, shared data layers and incentive systems.

Note: Many problems are not fit for tokenized solutions